IMPORTANT

SURFACING OPTIONS – PROS AND CONS

COLOUR TRANSFER AND MARKING

While EPDM granulate is a more expensive surfacing option, it is a fully pigmented product with no colour wear or risk of marking. Mulch is an affordable alternative. However, it is made from black rubber shred with a colour coating. Please note that due to normal wear and tear and UV exposure, over time all colour coated products are likely to expose the base rubber. As a result, mulch may leave black marks on users if not recoated as part of a maintenance programme.

Our black SBR crumb topping is another cost-effective solution but this may also cause marks.

BATCH VARIATIONS

There are often variations in shade and shred size between batches of mulch. Any orders of a single colour over 100 bags may be from more than one batch. For batch information refer to manufacture dates and codes marked on the pallet.
